

Kent Jordan

Colony Bank

Commercial Lender

Born in Warner Robins, Ga and lived here his entire life other than my four years of college. Graduated Georgia Southern University in 1999 with Bachelor of Business Administration and an Emphasis in Small Business Entrepreneurship. After graduation, he worked at GEICO for six years as Sales Agent for three years and Sales Supervisor for two years. The last year he obtained Sales/Service Manager. He then opened a Nationwide Insurance agency in 2006 and sold it in 2008. Then he began a banking career in July 2008 with Colonial Bank, which became BB&T in August 2009 and later joined Colony Bank as a Commercial Lender in 2015 advancing to Vice President Commercial Lending. Kent is an avid Braves and UGA fan and shows it by managing his growing sports memorabilia business the last few years.

He's a proud Father of two boys, Owen and Davis.
